

Presentation of the most important results of work of the Commission for Protection of Competition 2013-2022

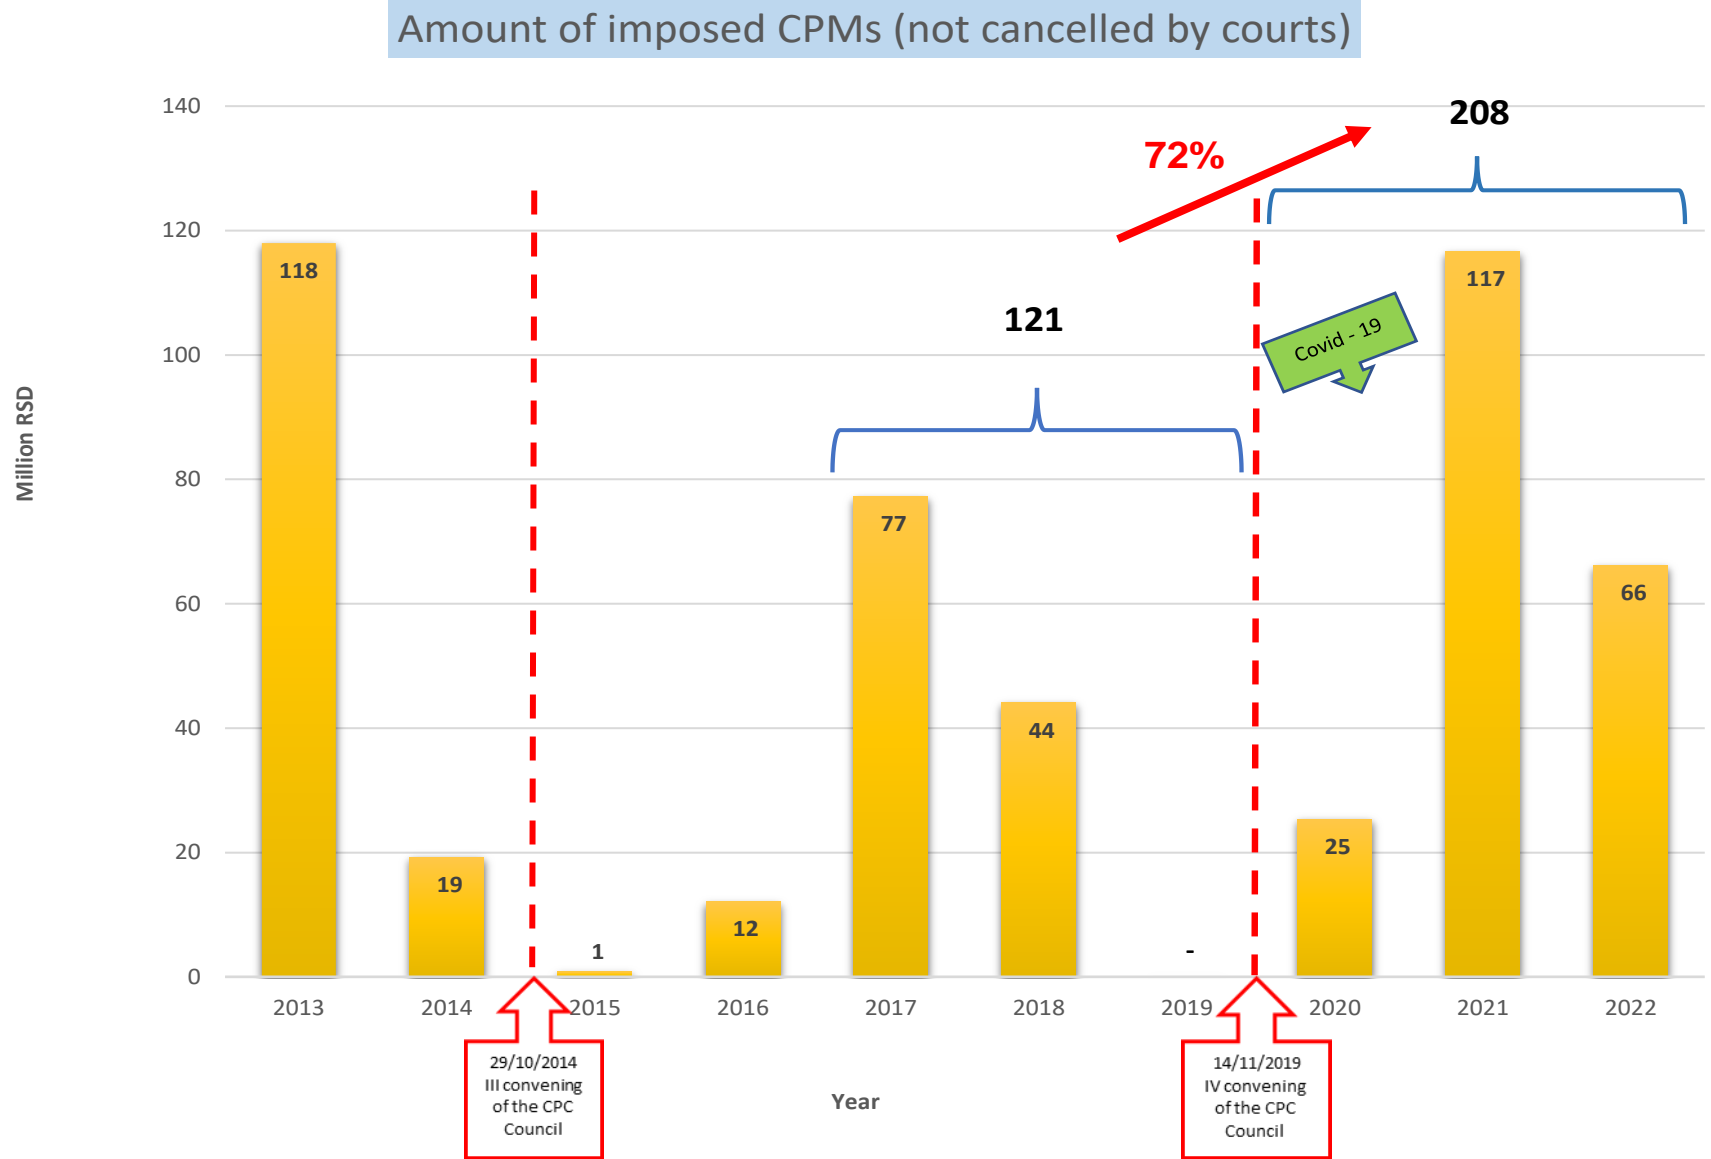

The Commission for Protection of Competition prepared a graphical presentation, on the occasion of celebrating the Competition Day, of the most important results of work for the last ten years (2013 - 2022) based on Annual Reports. Special significance has been given to the presentation of results of three-years work due to the activities taking place in the Covid-19 pandemic, that was compared to three years preceding the pandemic, to capture the impact of the pandemic on the Commission's work.

Cumulatively, in the 2020-2023 period, the number of determined competition infringements not cancelled by courts has doubled, compared to the three-year period preceding the pandemic

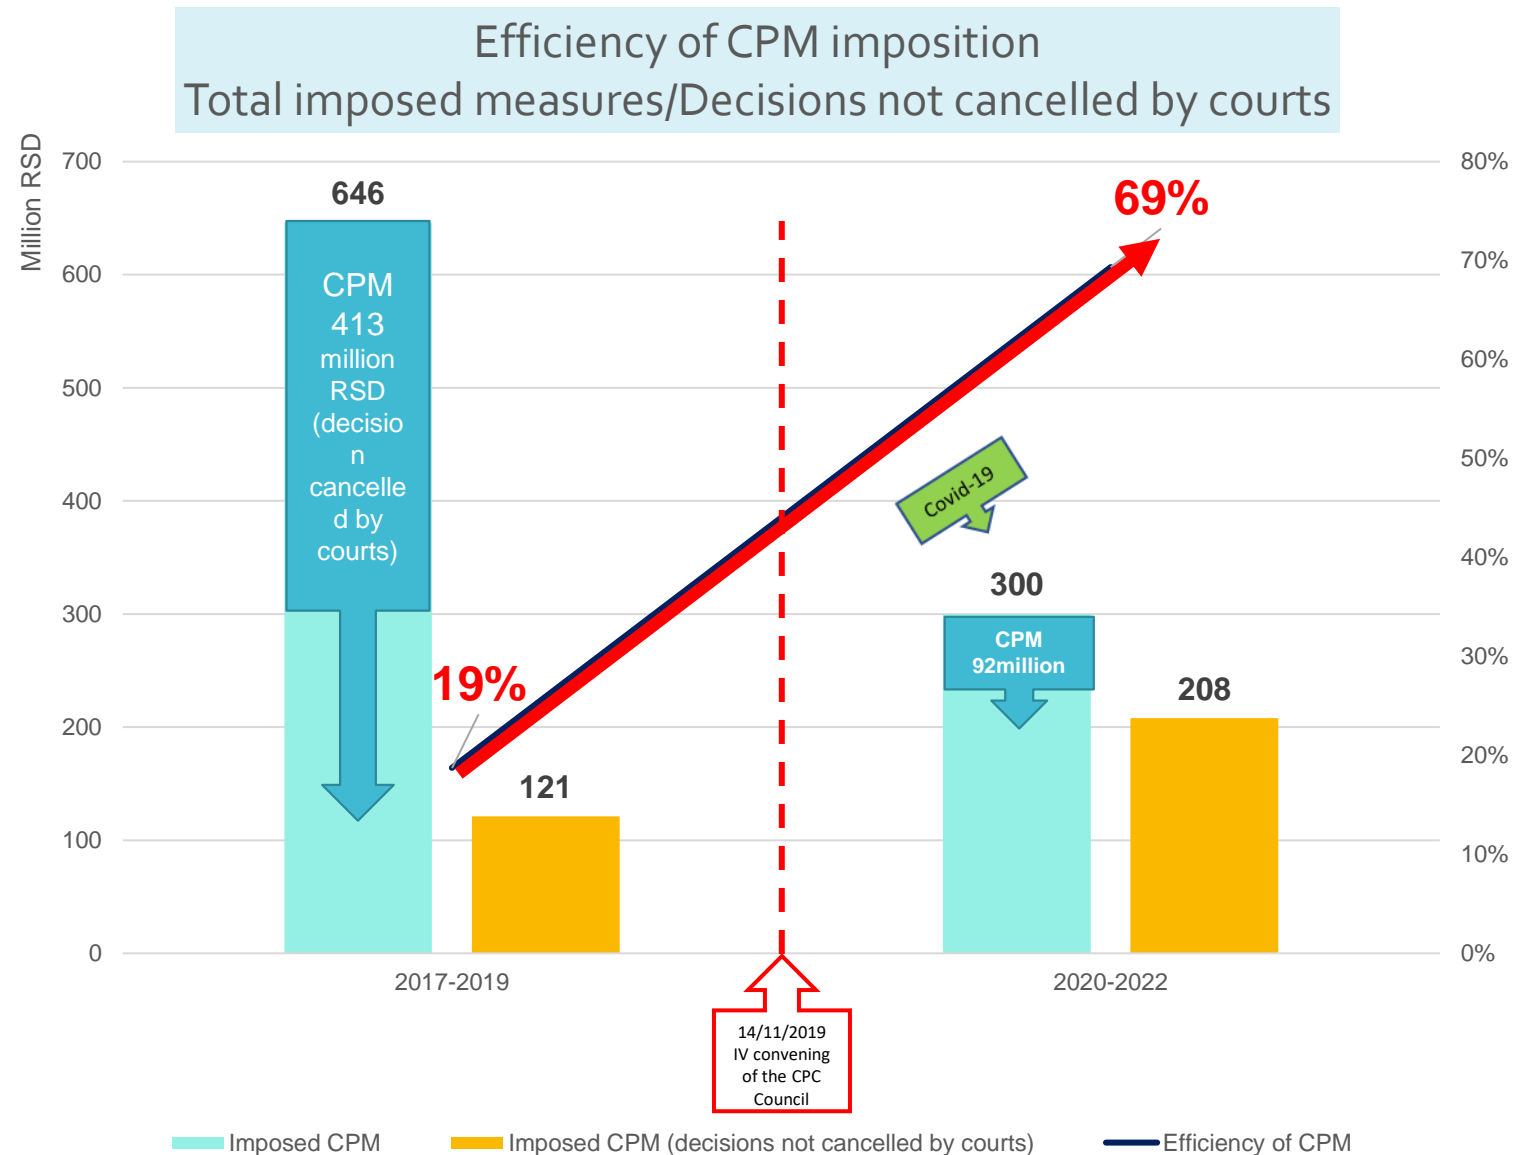

The cumulative amount of efficiently imposed competition protection measures in the 2020-2023 period has increased by 72%, compared to the previous three full years

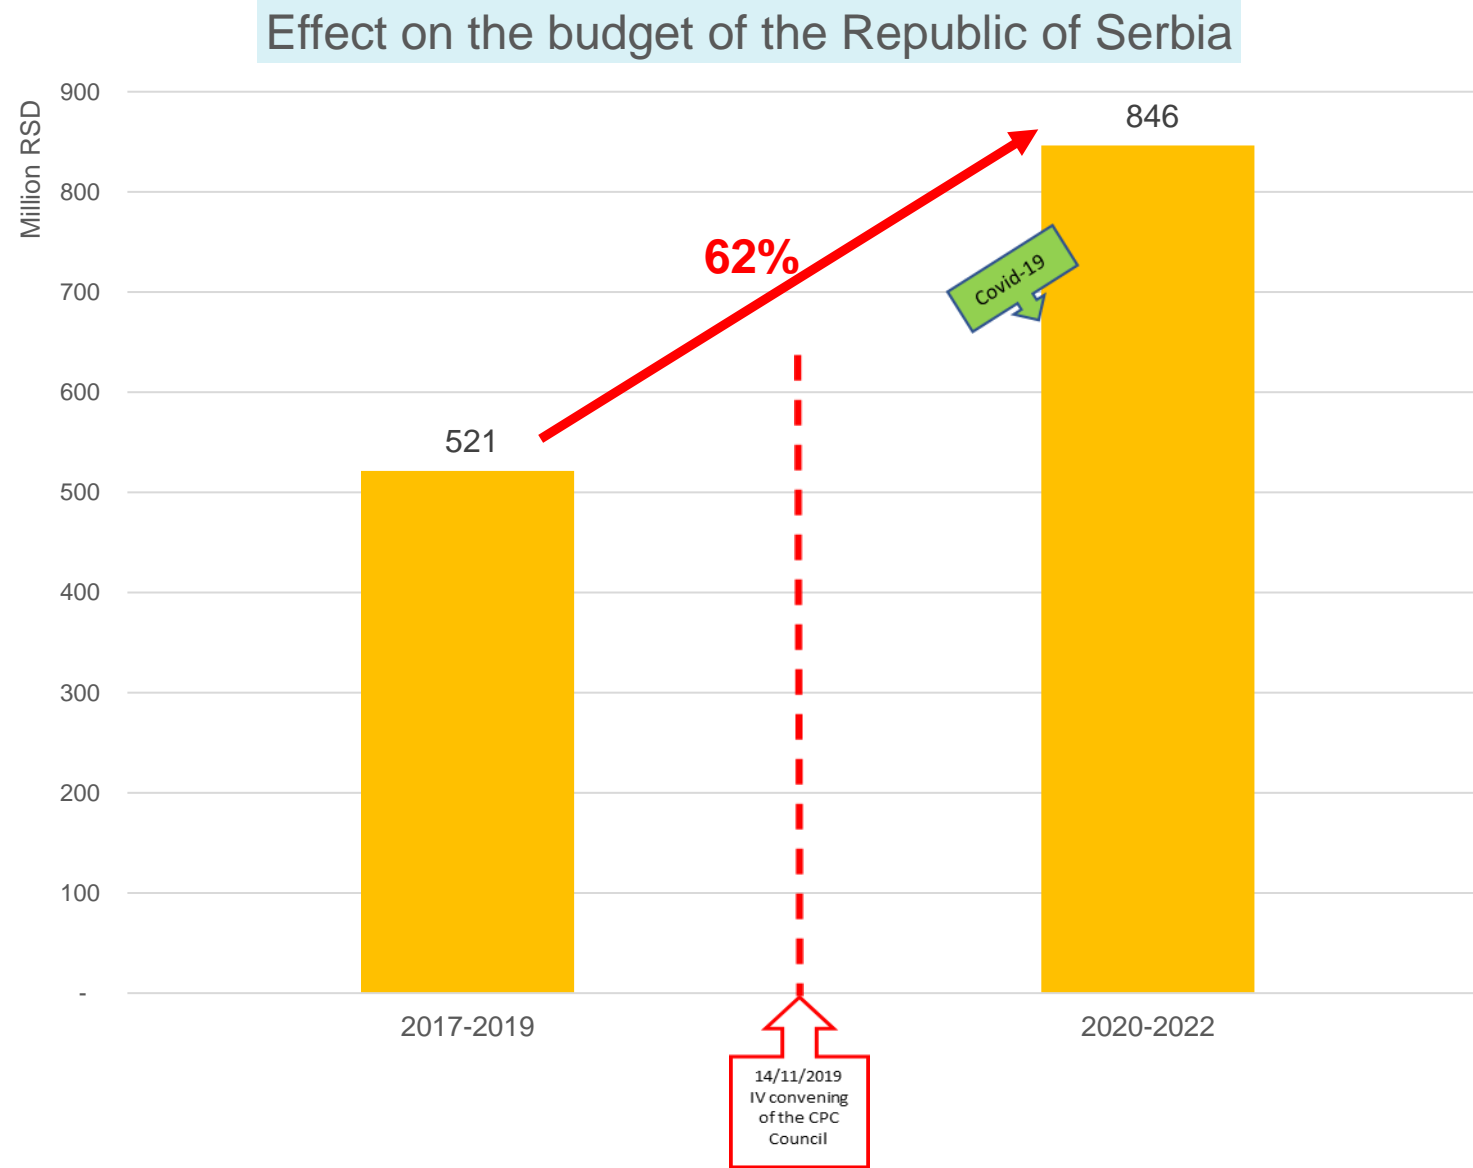

*CPM - competition protection measure

Efficiency of imposing CPMs has increased from 19% to 69%, giving the nominal amount of imposed CMPs not cancelled by courts to the total nominal amount of imposed CMPs ratio

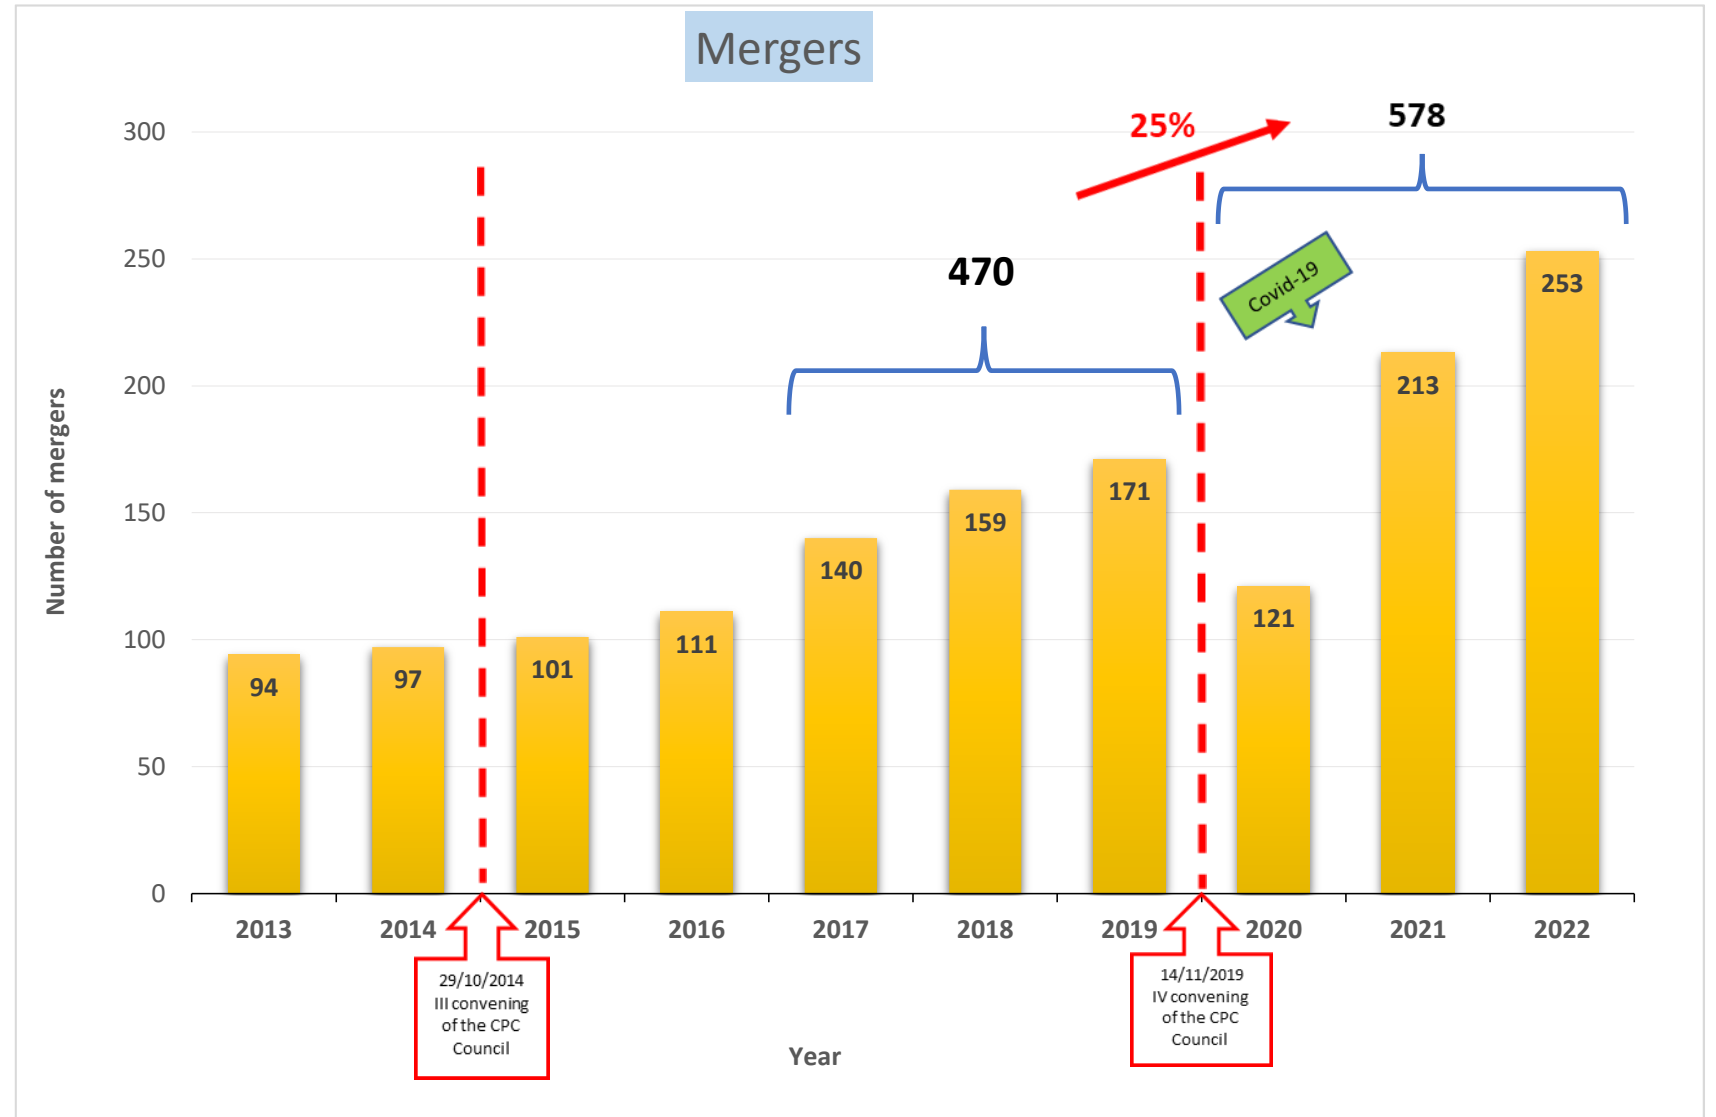

Effective management of proceedings and imposition of competition protection measures (fines) resulted in an increase in payments to the RS budget by 62%.

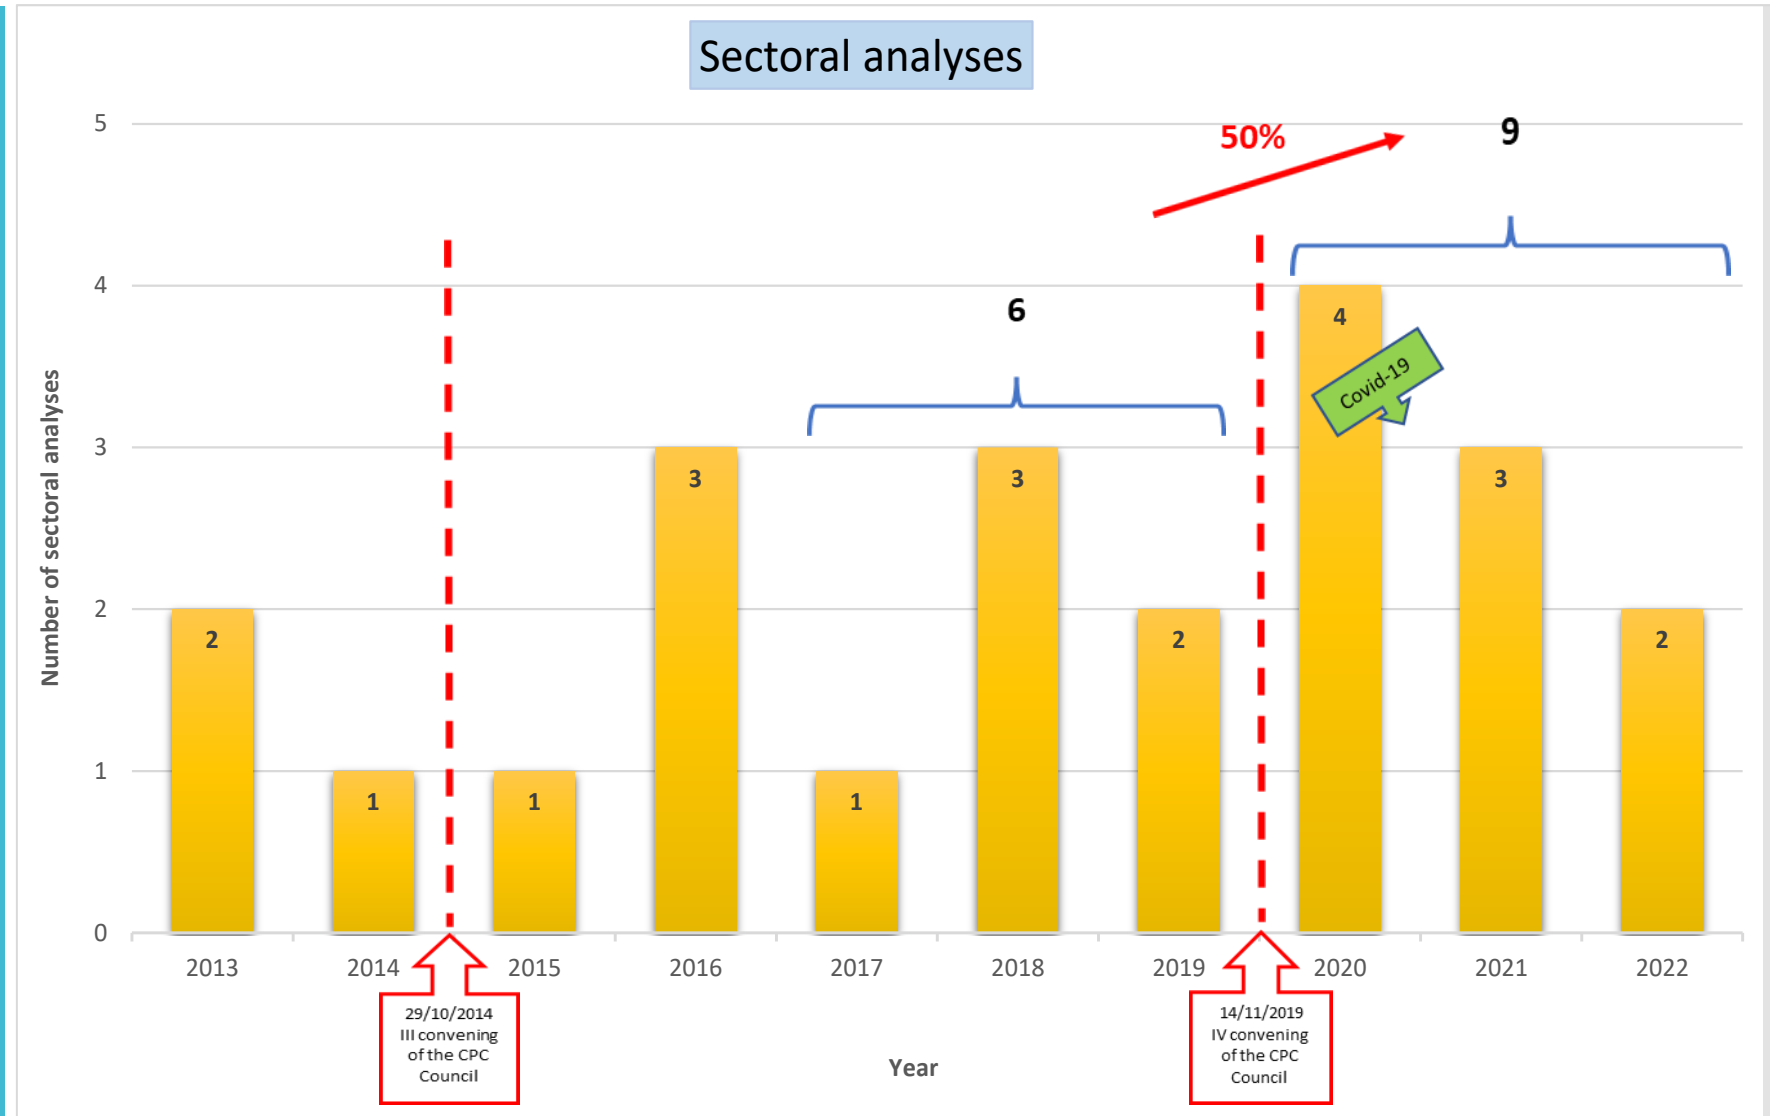

In the last three years*, the number of processed cases in the merger department has increased significantly.

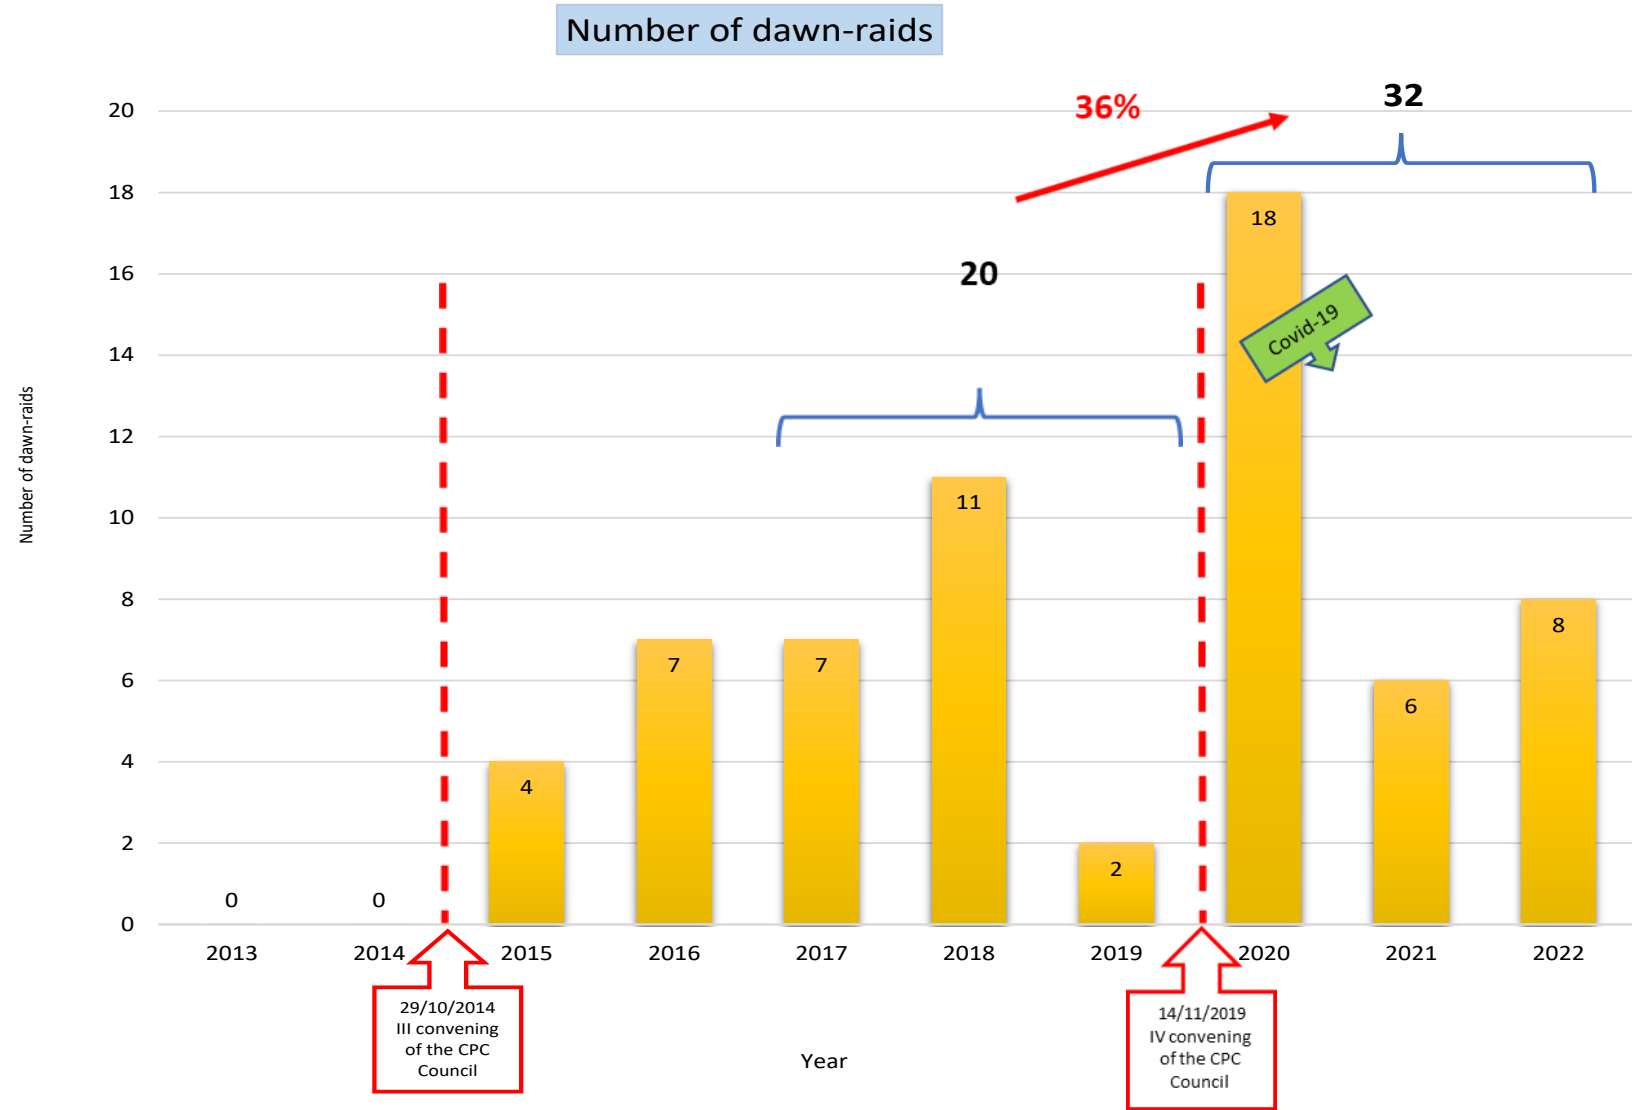

*2020 - Covid-19 year

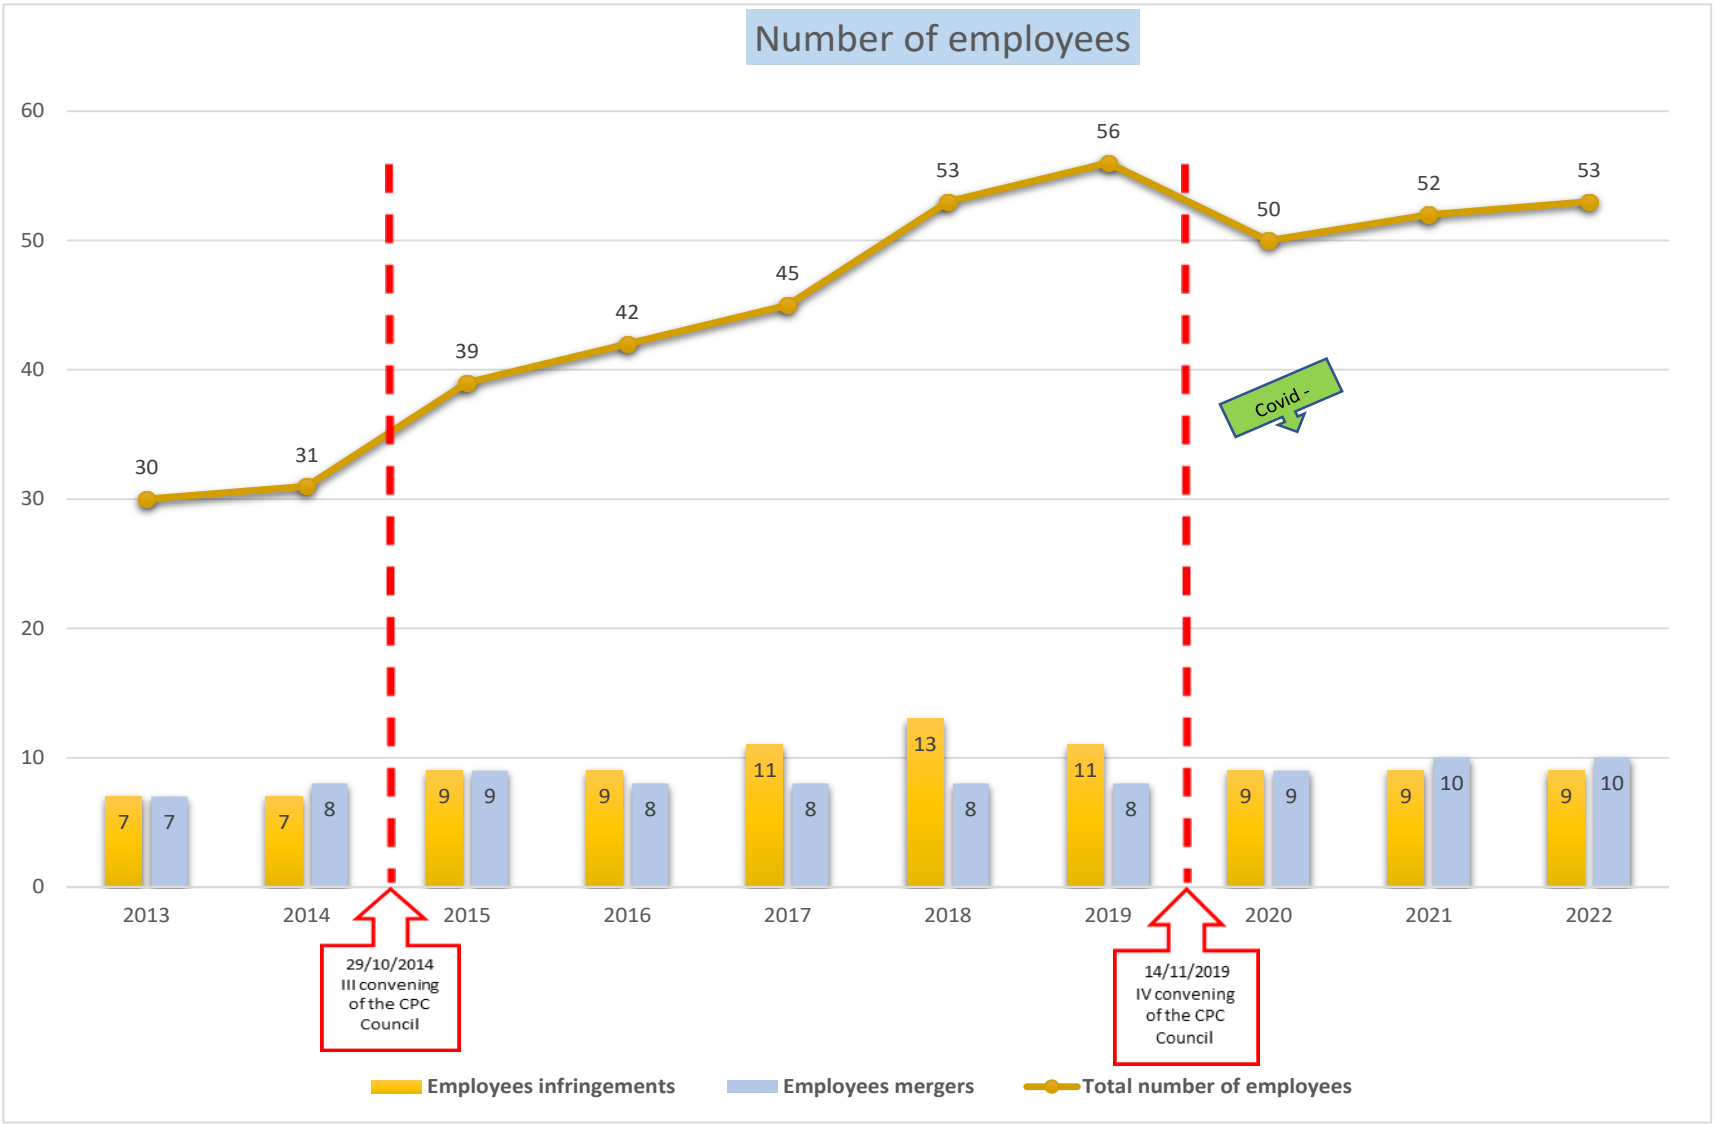

Cumulative number of sectoral analyses has increased by 50% compared to the preceding three-year period

Number of dawn-raids
